DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-2, 5-6, 14-18, and 22-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Ikeya et al (Patent No.: 5,482,115).

See pages 2-6 of the Office Action date 4/18/2007

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claims 3-4, 13 and 20-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ikeya et al (Patent No.: 5,482,115) as applied to the claims above, and further in view of Sin et al (Pub No.: 2003/0159814 A1)

See pages 6-9 of the Office Action date 4/18/2007

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 7/16/2007 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Claim 1:

Applicant argues that Ikeya et al fails to teach bending a first coolant tube at a first position and a second coolant tube at a second position, the first and second positions being spaced apart at different levels relative to a first position, along a first axis, to form first and second horizontal parts of the first and second coolant tubes.

This is not found persuasive because Ikeya et al teaches bending a first coolant tube 8a at a first position and a second coolant tube 8b at a second position (see Ikeya et al Abstract and Figure 7b, which shows first and second coolant tubes 8a, 8b being bent at different positions to form a zigzag configuration), the first and second positions being spaced apart at different levels relative to the first position along a first axis (the second position is spaced laterally from and is higher than the first position relative to horizontal axis 29a shown in Figure 7a).

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
